you are not absolutely sure about a particular medicine. We recommend you take only one multivitamin daily for two weeks prior to your surgery. Take only acetaminophen (Tylenol) for pain. Most prescribed medications should be taken before and after your surgery.

Should I stop smoking?

Do not smoke or use tobacco or nicotine products (snuff, chewing tobacco, Nicorette gum, nicotine inhaler, or nicotine skin patches (Nicoderm)) for two weeks before and two weeks after surgery (see Medications to Avoid Before Surgery). This can lead to skin loss, skin death, and slow wound healing that will ruin the result of your surgery leaving you with permanent deforming scars. Smoking also increases the risk of coughing after your surgery that leads to unwanted bleeding. For general health reasons, I recommend all my patients stop smoking.

Can I drink alcohol before surgery?

Do not have any alcoholic drinks (including beer and wine) for one week before surgery and two days after your surgery date. Also, do not have any alcoholic beverages as long as you are taking prescription medications. Alcohol interferes with anesthetic medicines. In addition, alcohol may result in excessive bleeding.

Can I have varicose vein treatments before surgery?

Do not have any lower leg or thigh vein treatments (injection sclerotherapy, vein injections, laser photocoagulation, vein surgery, or vein stripping) within six weeks of your surgery. These treatments can lead to blood clots in the legs. These are life threatening.

Can I combine this recovery with that of another surgery?

Just like vein treatments, I do not recommend you have surgery six weeks before or six weeks after cosmetic surgery. Shorter intervals between surgery can increase your risk for blood clots in the legs which can be life threatening.

When do I stop eating before surgery?

Do not eat or drink anything including water, tea, or coffee after midnight the night before your surgery (twelve hours before your surgery). Do not chew gum. You may brush your teeth the morning before surgery, but do not swallow any water when you rinse your mouth. Failure to comply with this important precaution can lead to death as a result of aspiration pneumonia or lung problems. Your surgery will be cancelled if you do not comply with this order. If you take prescription medicines, please call me to make arrangements to take these the day of surgery.

Do I need someone to stay with me the night after surgery?

You must have an adult (older than 18 years old) take you home and remain with you continuously for 24 hours after your surgery. Choose someone who will be supportive of your decision to have breast enlargement surgery. A companion who questions your decision will make your convalescence more difficult. You may not take a limousine or a cab home without your care giver. We ask your companion not bring children with them to take you home. You must have their full attention during the ride home. Your surgery will be cancelled if this is not arranged. If you undergo surgery and inform us you have not made these arrangements, you will be admitted to the hospital. This will cost you $500 to $1000 per night plus ambulance transport costs. Prior to surgery, we can arrange a home nursing service to care for you the night after your surgery. Call us to arrange this.

What do I do the day before surgery?

Try to relax the day before surgery. Go about your daily responsibilities. Drink four quarts of water so you are properly hydrated the morning of surgery.

How do I prepare for the night after surgery?

Every patient is apprehensive about the night after surgery. Proper preparation will make this first night easier for you. First, read your after surgery instructions twice. If you have any questions make sure they are answered before your surgery. An adult will need to pick you up after your surgery and drive you home. I do not recommend you travel more than one hour to your home. If you live further than this from my office, you should arrange to stay in a hotel near my office. An adult must stay with you continuously for the twenty-four hours after your surgery. This is necessary to help you in case of any emergencies. Your companion must also care for any children that will be staying with you.
